

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
1. The woman complained that the bicycles of the neighbour's kids were leaving black marks.	3
2. The interviewer listened patiently before noticing that he did not pay attention.	2
3. The passenger insulted the attendant on the flight who refused to serve him alcohol.	5
4. The hooligan insulted the supporters of the foreign team that ?	he despised.
5. The accomplice of the recently convicted fraudster alleged they were only in it for the money.	5
6. The management of the successful supermarket chain planned ...	to expand the chain.
7. The foody relished the dish by the head chef who was newly appointed.	2
8. The scientist criticised the methods of the study that ?	proved his work to be incorrect.
9. The robber decided to leave empty-handed after he found ?	a sleeping baby.
10. Because of a considerable delay of the 7.30am train, ...	the commuter was late for work.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
11. The commentary angered the organizer of the rally who was passionate about climate change.	5
12. The parade delighted the devotees of the queen who ?	supported the monarchy.
13. The passengers on the bus looked on in confusion as they forded through the River Clyde.	5
14. The officer recalled that sails of the buccaneer's ship were ...	black as night.
15. The burglars fooled the watchman of the bank which was located near the town hall.	4
16. The pay rise surprised the speaker of the unionists who ?	had not expected such a quick response.
17. The lollipop man watched the traffic as a trail of ducks waddled across the road.	5
18. The politician blustered that future rioters will be facing the full force of the law.	4
19. The coach yelled at the groundsman of the football pitch who was seemingly drunk.	2
20. The boss yelled at the trainees of the foreman who ?	had spent the day messing around.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
21. The wizard invited acclaimed adventures to his castle to steal their vast riches.	1
22. Because of last night's TV documentary, the young woman vowed never to eat meat again.	3
23. The pirate buried the treasure chest of the captain which was full of stolen gems.	2
24. The soldier guarded the gates to the palace that ?	was home to the king and his family.
25. To help the penguins digest, zookeepers urged patrons not to deep fry fish.	3
26. The small island town held a celebration for its 50th annual ?	hot dog parade.
27. The plumber fixed the kitchen sink of the old lady which had taken ages to drain.	3
28. The mechanic fixed the brakes of the F1 car that ?	belonged to a famous racer.
29. The pianist noted that the strings of the soloist's violin were ...	slightly out of tune.
30. The picnic was going so well until swans from the pond feasted on all the bread.	5

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
31. The rich uncle missed the graduation of his niece which was held on campus.	3
32. The shooter missed two targets at the firing range that ?	were rather close together.
33. When I was younger my mother used to read me bedtime stories about ?	a dashing prince and the adventures he would go on.
34. The soldiers charged into the jungle in the search of hidden Aztec artefacts.	5
35. The businesswoman met the mayor of the city which was famous for its museums.	3
36. The negotiator met the deputies of the chairman who ?	had kidnapped a competitor?s child.
37. Before selling his mansion with all its antique interior, the earl ...	held a massive ball to say farewell.
38. The company was worried about their eco-friendly image, so they planted some trees.	3
39. The constant rain annoyed the celebrities in the camp who hadn't had a proper meal for days.	5
40. The reviews frustrated the co-authors of the researcher who ?	had worked hard on this book.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
41. The archaeologist discovered an unusual fossil which turned out to be a discarded film prop.	4
42. The grandmaster reluctantly went to the chessboard where he faced a supercomputer.	1
43. The young girl feared the dog of the pensioner who hoarded old newspapers in his flat.	1
44. The admiral feared an attack on the support ships that ?	would result in his defeat.
45. The prime minister held a press conference and shortly afterwards ...	he attended another meeting.
46. The fishermen hated the large swarms of jellyfish because they would clog their nets.	5
47. The toddler nuzzled the fluffy toy of her playmate who was crying for his mum.	3
48. The diva kissed the puppies at the dog shelter that ?	had been abandoned s
49. The film was torn apart by cineastes, but most people thought it was too pretentious.	1
50. The cook decided that wasabi was a poor choice because ?	it was far too spicy.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
51. The angry mob blamed the healer of the village who was rumoured to practice witchcraft.	4
52. The defence lawyer blamed the victims of the conman who ?	had believed his lies.
53. Looking back over 3 months of receiving psychiatric help, he felt like ?	he had made tremendous progress.
54. The friendly mailman delivered a small parcel to ...	his favourite house.
55. The guest envied the hostess of the party who was celebrating her latest promotion.	4
56. The principal congratulated the supervisor of the students who ?	had worked a lot of overtime.
57. The inspector learnt that the handbag of the diplomat?s wife had been ...	stolen by the diplomat?s assistant.
58. According to the monk in plaster cast, the steps down the temple were a bit steep.	1
59. The sleazy agent harassed the mistress of the house which was apparently up for sale.	3
60. The internet troll harassed the candidate of the Lib Dems who ?	had tried to be ?down with the kids? and posted a cringey meme to twitter.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
61. Thanks to stricter speed checks on national motorways ...	the number of car accidents dropped a large amount.
62. The teenagers barricaded the main entrance of the school so that no one could get in.	5
63. The conductor praised the baritone singer of the choir which had about 30 members.	1
64. The head of state praised the work of the charities that ?	had raised thousands of pounds for the homeless.
65. Given the reports about quicksand, the adventurer decided the best would be to wait.	1
66. The doctor helped heal the horse's broken leg until she made a miraculous recovery.	1
67. The sea captivated many artists of the 19th century who called themselves impressionists.	1
68. The theory inspired research on quantum particles that ?	could change what they knew of physics.
69. The labourer loaded planks of timber onto the van before he drove off to the building site.	5
70. The skateboarders had to bandage up their knees after they ?	failed to land a trick.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
71. The vegan decried the new diet of her friend which mainly consisted of crisps.	2
72. The arbiter encouraged a dialogue between the opponents that ?	could end the tension between them.
73. The postman was scared off by a large dog, so next time ?	he went to the back door to avoid seeing the dog.
74. The famous entertainer was given a bunch of flowers after ...	performing an excellent show
75. The poet wrote a sonnet about a princess who fell in love with a peasant.	5
76. The psychologist wrote an article on mental disorders that ?	changed the way in which mental disorders were viewed.
77. The patient had to wait for quite some time before being told to come back another time.	3
78. All her friends chipped in for her birthday to surprise her with ?	tickets to her favourite band.
79. Mr Farage exalted the proposal by the US president who was keen to exploit the NHS.	5
80. The receptionist welcomed the secretary of the diplomats who ?	they would be working with whilst the diplomats were here.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
81. The priest looked after the asylum seekers because ...	they felt it was the right thing to do.
82. The expert claimed the earthquake was due to a seismic slip from drilling on an oil rig.	5
83. The cult members celebrated the death of their guru which spelled the dawn of a new age to them.	1
84. The campaigners celebrated the outcome of the elections that ?	meant their candidate had won.
85. Due to new safety regulations, the construction of the new bridge ?	had to be postponed.
86. The cat impressed all at the talent show by demonstrating an understanding of calculus.	1
87. The data spooked the advocate of the standard model which predicted the exact opposite.	5
88. The shouting spooked the neighbour of the newlyweds who ?	were watching a scary movie.
89. Shortly before the fully occupied passenger plane had landed, ...	there had been some turbulence.
90. The family found it difficult to adjust to living in France since none of them spoke French.	5

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
91. The TV channel showed a report on the duke which contained highly charged footage.	4
92. The screen showed error messages of the programme that ?	the programmer had spent days working on.
93. Because of unexpectedly harsh weather conditions in spring, ?	the festival was cancelled.
94. Since the mountain was incredibly dangerous, the rock climbers ?	decided to avoid climbing that mountain and turn around.
95. The keynote uplifted the participants at the meeting which was rather boring until then.	1
96. The puppet show uplifted the children at the ward that ?	had cancer.
97. The old lady brought her troublesome grandchildren some ?	mixed candy bags.
98. The ranger of the forest near the city borders forbid ...	hunting in the forest.
99. The tabloid vilified the landlord of the estate which still had combustible cladding.	2
100. The headmaster questioned the classmate of the bullies who ?	had seen the bullying take place.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
101. Ever since the DEA cracked down on illicit drugs, dealers began investing in cryptocurrency.	1
102. The rainstorm raged on through the country, causing back-to-back traffic for miles.	5
103. The priest worshipped the book by the medieval bishop who later had become a saint.	3
104. The pop fan cherished the albums of the band that ?	had saved their life.
105. After washing the salad with its firm green leaves, the scullion ...	sneakily ate one of the leaves.
106. The lieutenant ordered that the floors of the battalion's barracks were ...	to be scrubbed clean.
107. The kids mocked the goose of the farmer who was milking the cows.	1
108. The cops chased the getaway car of the mobsters that ?	had shot one of the cops.
109. The church choir had to stop unexpectedly after the organist ?.	fainted.
110. The preschoolers rounded up as many snails as they could find for another busy day.	2

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
111. The detective recorded the testimony of the witness which was very detailed.	4
112. The secretary filed the letters from the department that ?	contained incriminating information.
113. The van driver nearly crashed into the pedestrians because he was staring at his phone.	5
114. The hairdresser was chatting to her colleague in order to honour an old tradition of the trade.	1
115. The cardinal idolized the painter of the famous fresco which graced the ceiling of the chapel.	5
116. The promoter hired the staffers of the catering firm that ?	had a reputation for providing a good service.
117. They waded through dusty cobwebs in the attic until they found boxes full of old board games.	5
118. The overeager Crown Prosecutor alleged that the defendant ...	had made up their entire testimony.
119. The insurer snubbed the tenant of the flat who complained about the water leak.	4
120. The baroness snubbed the housemaids of the millionaire who ?	had been underperforming.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
121. The barman slid a whiskey and a beer over to the cowboy from the adverts.	1
122. The musicians deflected criticisms of their new CD, stating ?	that not everyone can enjoy every genre of music, especially a rather experimental genre like theirs.
123. The freshman read through the notes from the tutor who had given the stats course.	3
124. The applicant read through the small print in the forms that ?	contained important legal information.
125. There were rumours that the contract of the team?s manager had not been ...	fair on the players.
126. The invited speaker switched on the microphone before ...	starting the speech.
127. The playboy beguiled the main actress of the movie who felt very uncomfortable about it.	2
128. The anthropologist approached the chief of the natives who ?	regarded him wearily.
Time taken	41 mins