

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
1. The robber decided to leave empty-handed after he found ?	a security camera.
2. The passengers on the bus looked on in confusion as they forded through the River Clyde.	3
3. The playboy approached the main actress of the movie which had some explicit scenes in it.	5
4. The anthropologist approached the chief of the natives who ?	looked angry.
5. The inspector learnt that the handbag of the diplomat's wife had been ...	stolen.
6. The prime minister held a press conference and shortly afterwards ...	went home.
7. The conductor praised the baritone singer of the choir who was a bit full of himself.	5
8. The head of state praised the work of the charities that ?	help young children.
9. The lieutenant ordered that the floors of the battalion's barracks were ...	too slippery.
10. The invited speaker switched on the microphone before ...	saying hello.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
11. The TV channel announced a report on the duke who had some dubious friends in the past.	4
12. The screen showed error messages of the programme that ?	we were watching.
13. The teenagers barricaded the main entrance of the school so that no one could get in.	5
14. The barman slid a whiskey and a beer over to the cowboy from the adverts.	4
15. The commentary delighted the organizer of the rally which took place in London last week.	3
16. The parade delighted the devotees of the queen who ?	were having fun.
17. The postman was scared off by a large dog, so next time ?	a different postman tried that house.
18. The expert claimed the earthquake was due to a seismic slip from drilling on an oil rig.	4
19. The tabloid vilified the landlord of the estate who did not care about fire regulations.	5
20. The headmaster questioned the classmate of the bullies who ?	was upset.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
21. Ever since the DEA cracked down on illicit drugs, dealers began investing in cryptocurrency.	4
22. The van driver nearly crashed into the pedestrians because he was staring at his phone.	5
23. The insurer appeased the tenant of the flat which reportedly had a water leak.	2
24. The baroness snubbed the housemaids of the millionaire who ?	were not doing a good enough job.
25. The accomplice of the recently convicted fraudster alleged they were only in it for the money.	4
26. Since the mountain was incredibly dangerous, the rock climbers ?	used professional equipment.
27. The passenger forgave the attendant on the flight which operated a no alcohol policy.	3
28. The hooligan insulted the supporters of the foreign team that ?	were celebrating their win.
29. The fishermen hated the large swarms of jellyfish because they would clog their nets.	5
30. The overeager Crown Prosecutor alleged that the defendant ...	was not guilty.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
31. The sleazy agent harassed the mistress of the house who wasn't as gullible as he expected.	3
32. The internet troll harassed the candidate of the Lib Dems who ?	is hated by the public.
33. The old lady brought her troublesome grandchildren some ?	ice lollies.
34. The picnic was going so well until swans from the pond feasted on all the bread.	4
35. The vegan encouraged the new diet of her friend who used to eat almost anything.	5
36. The arbiter encouraged a dialogue between the opponents that ?	was more calm than the last dialouge.
37. The wizard invited acclaimed adventures to his castle to steal their vast riches.	4
38. The ranger of the forest near the city borders forbid ...	people hurting the animals and birds.
39. The keynote uplifted the participants at the meeting who did not expect such eloquence.	3
40. The puppet show uplifted the children at the ward that ?	were sick.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
41. The interviewer listened patiently before noticing that he did not pay attention.	2
42. When I was younger my mother used to read me bedtime stories about ?	castles and dragons.
43. The foody relished the dish by the head chef which was very spicy.	5
44. The scientist criticised the methods of the study that ?	did not show significant results.
45. The skateboarders had to bandage up their knees after they ?	consistently fell off their skateboards.
46. The church choir had to stop unexpectedly after the organist ?.	passed out.
47. The data spooked the advocate of the standard model who had expected the exact opposite.	3
48. The shouting spooked the neighbour of the newlyweds who ?	just moved in.
49. The soldiers charged into the jungle in the search of hidden Aztec artefacts.	5
50. The labourer loaded planks of timber onto the van before he drove off to the building site.	5

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
51. Mr Farage exalted the proposal by the US president which involved privatisation of the NHS.	3
52. The receptionist welcomed the secretary of the diplomats who ?	were here to visit.
53. After washing the salad with its firm green leaves, the scullion ...	topped it with the dressing.
54. The film was torn apart by cineastes, but most people thought it was too pretentious.	3
55. The priest worshipped the book by the medieval bishop which was precious and unique.	2
56. The pop fan cherished the albums of the band that ?	topped the charts.
57. The small island town held a celebration for its 50th annual ?	parade.
58. Thanks to stricter speed checks on national motorways ...	are 25% safer than before,
59. The poet wrote a sonnet about a princess which did not rhyme at all.	4
60. The psychologist wrote an article on mental disorders that ?	was considered a revelation.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
61. The woman complained that the bicycles of the neighbour's kids were leaving black marks.	1
62. To help the penguins digest, zookeepers urged patrons not to deep fry fish.	4
63. The constant rain frustrated the celebrities in the camp which was infested with cockroaches.	3
64. The reviews frustrated the co-authors of the researcher who ?	worked hard on this publication.
65. Shortly before the fully occupied passenger plane had landed, ...	there was extreme turbulence.
66. Because of last night's TV documentary, the young woman vowed never to eat meat again.	5
67. The rich uncle visited the graduation of his niece who got a first-class degree.	4
68. The shooter missed two targets at the firing range that ?	was near their house.
69. The management of the successful supermarket chain planned ...	to open a new store.
70. The pianist noted that the strings of the soloist's violin were ...	not properly tuned.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
71. The freshman read through the notes from the tutor which were relevant for the exam.	4
72. The applicant read through the small print in the forms that ?	they had to fill out.
73. Because of a considerable delay of the 7.30am train, ...	all trains were delayed for the rest of the day.
74. They waded through dusty cobwebs in the attic until they found boxes full of old board games.	5
75. The guest congratulated the hostess of the party which was the biggest event in town.	3
76. The principal congratulated the supervisor of the students who ?	got exceptional grades.
77. The politician blustered that future rioters will be facing the full force of the law.	4
78. The rainstorm raged on through the country, causing back-to-back traffic for miles.	5
79. The coach ridiculed the groundsman of the football pitch which was very untidy.	4
80. The boss yelled at the trainees of the foreman who ?	was in charge of the building.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
81. Given the reports about quicksand, the adventurer decided the best would be to wait.	3
82. There were rumours that the contract of the team's manager had not been ...	signed proeprly.
83. The cardinal idolized the painter of the famous fresco who was also an exquisite sculptor.	4
84. The promoter hired the staffers of the catering firm that ?	had good reviews.
85. Before selling his mansion with all its antique interior, the earl ...	hired professional cleaners.
86. The preschoolers rounded up as many snails as they could find for another busy day.	2
87. The burglars fooled the watchman of the bank who was not expecting such audacity.	4
88. The pay rise surprised the speaker of the unionists who ?	did not see a need for a pay rise.
89. The family found it difficult to adjust to living in France since none of them spoke French.	5
90. The cat impressed all at the talent show by demonstrating an understanding of calculus.	4

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
91. The cult members mourned the death of their guru who had promised them an eternal afterlife.	4
92. The campaigners celebrated the outcome of the elections that ?	decidede the new government leaders.
93. The lollipop man watched the traffic as a trail of ducks waddled across the road.	4
94. Looking back over 3 months of receiving psychiatric help, he felt like ?	he had made improvements to his health.
95. The sea inspired many artists of the 19th century which was the age of impressionism.	4
96. The theory inspired research on quantum particles that ?	had never been studies before.
97. The archaeologist discovered an unusual fossil which turned out to be a discarded film prop.	3
98. The hairdresser was chatting to her colleague in order to honour an old tradition of the trade.	3
99. The detective filed the testimony of the witness who was very cooperative.	4
100. The secretary filed the letters from the department that ?	was in charge of hosuing.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
101. The doctor helped heal the horse's broken leg until she made a miraculous recovery.	3
102. The friendly mailman delivered a small parcel to ...	our nextdoor neighbour.
103. The kids mocked the goose of the farmer which was chattering frantically.	2
104. The cops chased the getaway car of the mobsters that ?	had just killed a man.
105. The priest looked after the asylum seekers because ...	he felt it was the right thing to do.
106. The musicians deflected criticisms of their new CD, stating ?	the critics just didn't understand.
107. The businesswoman met the mayor of the city who was nominated for an OBE.	5
108. The negotiator met the deputies of the chairman who ?	needed their help.
109. The famous entertainer was given a bunch of flowers after ...	their show.
110. According to the monk in plaster cast, the steps down the temple were a bit steep.	4

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
111. The young girl feared the dog of the pensioner that always barked when it saw her.	1
112. The admiral feared an attack on the support ships that ?	would cause significant damage to their team.
113. The officer recalled that sails of the buccaneer's ship were ...	not good enough.
114. Because of unexpectedly harsh weather conditions in spring, ?	the crops did not grow as planned.
115. The toddler nuzzled the fluffy toy of her playmate which was made of 100% polyester.	2
116. The diva kissed the puppies at the dog shelter that ?	had rescued 150 dogs.
117. The grandmaster reluctantly went to the chessboard where he faced a supercomputer.	3
118. The company was worried about their eco-friendly image, so they planted some trees.	5
119. The plumber cleared the kitchen sink of the old lady who was living on her own.	4
120. The mechanic fixed the brakes of the F1 car that ?	was competing in a race the next day.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
121. The cook decided that wasabi was a poor choice because ?	not everybody would like it.
122. Due to new safety regulations, the construction of the new bridge ?	was put on hold.
123. The angry mob chastened the healer of the village which was afflicted by the plague.	4
124. The defence lawyer blamed the victims of the conman who ?	was facing years in prison.
125. All her friends chipped in for her birthday to surprise her with ?	some nice presents.
126. The patient had to wait for quite some time before being told to come back another time.	3
127. The pirate guarded the treasure chest of the captain who was notorious for his cruelty.	5
128. The soldier guarded the gates to the palace that ?	the queen lived in.
Time taken	119 mins