

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
1. The cook decided that wasabi was a poor choice because ?	not everyone was familiar with this hot horseradish dressing
2. Because of a considerable delay of the 7.30am train, ...	I treated myself to an expensive coffee
3. The coach yelled at the groundsman of the football pitch which was very untidy.	3
4. The boss yelled at the trainees of the foreman who ?	spoke later with his team about the issue
5. The film was torn apart by cineastes, but most people thought it was too pretentious.	4
6. The musicians deflected criticisms of their new CD, stating ?	that it was important for new writing to have a traditional media platform
7. The guest envied the hostess of the party which was the biggest event in town.	3
8. The principal congratulated the supervisor of the students who ?	had been engaged and supportive throughout the project.
9. Ever since the DEA cracked down on illicit drugs, dealers began investing in cryptocurrency.	5
10. The archaeologist discovered an unusual fossil which turned out to be a discarded film prop.	5

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
11. The priest cherished the book by the medieval bishop which was precious and unique.	4
12. The pop fan cherished the albums of the band that ?	he had first followed as a teenager
13. The famous entertainer was given a bunch of flowers after ...	her gala performance
14. When I was younger my mother used to read me bedtime stories about ?	Winnie the Poo
15. The businesswoman married the mayor of the city who was nominated for an OBE.	4
16. The negotiator met the deputies of the chairman who ?	set out what they saw as the chairman's requirements.
17. The management of the successful supermarket chain planned ...	to open five new stores in Scotland in 2020
18. The lieutenant ordered that the floors of the battalion's barracks were ...	scrubbed by the newest recruits
19. The sea captivated many artists of the 19th century which was the age of impressionism.	2
20. The theory inspired research on quantum particles that ?	stunned the world of physics

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
21. Since the mountain was incredibly dangerous, the rock climbers ?	were roped together
22. The friendly mailman delivered a small parcel to ...	the woman in the brown bungalow
23. The young girl fed the dog of the pensioner that always barked when it saw her.	2
24. The admiral feared an attack on the support ships that ?	were part of the battle group
25. The old lady brought her troublesome grandchildren some ?	books on birdwatching
26. Before selling his mansion with all its antique interior, the earl ...	removed the furniture and paintings to his vaults
27. The rich uncle missed the graduation of his niece who got a first-class degree.	2
28. The shooter missed two targets at the firing range that ?	were stationary
29. The ranger of the forest near the city borders forbid ...	the building of fires
30. Given the reports about quicksand, the adventurer decided the best would be to wait.	1

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
31. The toddler kissed the fluffy toy of her playmate which was made of 100% polyester.	1
32. The diva kissed the puppies at the dog shelter that ?	had benefited from her generous donation
33. The picnic was going so well until swans from the pond feasted on all the bread.	5
34. Due to new safety regulations, the construction of the new bridge ?	was delayed by six months
35. The TV channel showed a report on the duke who had some dubious friends in the past.	4
36. The screen showed error messages of the programme that ?	the student had downloaded
37. The barman slid a whiskey and a beer over to the cowboy from the adverts.	1
38. They waded through dusty cobwebs in the attic until they found boxes full of old board games.	5
39. The cardinal hired the painter of the famous fresco who was also an exquisite sculptor.	3
40. The promoter hired the staffers of the catering firm that ?	had been recommended by a colleague

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
41. Because of last night's TV documentary, the young woman vowed never to eat meat again.	5
42. Looking back over 3 months of receiving psychiatric help, he felt like ?	he was coming out of the darkness of his depressive illness
43. Mr Farage welcomed the proposal by the US president which involved privatisation of the NHS.	4
44. The receptionist welcomed the secretary of the diplomats who ?	handed over a draft timetable for their visit
45. The family found it difficult to adjust to living in France since none of them spoke French.	5
46. The patient had to wait for quite some time before being told to come back another time.	5
47. The vegan decried the new diet of her friend who used to eat almost anything.	3
48. The arbiter encouraged a dialogue between the opponents that ?	had seemed impossible at first
49. The hairdresser was chatting to her colleague in order to honour an old tradition of the trade.	1
50. The soldiers charged into the jungle in the search of hidden Aztec artefacts.	5

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
51. The kids chased the goose of the farmer which was chattering frantically.	1
52. The cops chased the getaway car of the mobsters that ?	had run a red lights and struck several other vehicles
53. The preschoolers rounded up as many snails as they could find for another busy day.	4
54. The doctor helped heal the horse?s broken leg until she made a miraculous recovery.	1
55. The playboy beguiled the main actress of the movie which had some explicit scenes in it.	1
56. The anthropologist approached the chief of the natives who ?	said, 'oh, not another anthropologist.'
57. The passengers on the bus looked on in confusion as they forded through the River Clyde.	5
58. The prime minister held a press conference and shortly afterwards ...	went down with Covid 19
59. The poet recited a sonnet about a princess which did not rhyme at all.	1
60. The psychologist wrote an article on mental disorders that ?	was published in a prestigious journal

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
61. The expert claimed the earthquake was due to a seismic slip from drilling on an oil rig.	1
62. The wizard invited acclaimed adventures to his castle to steal their vast riches.	1
63. The foody criticized the dish by the head chef which was very spicy.	1
64. The scientist criticised the methods of the study that ?	failed to recruit a significant number of subjects for the analysis
65. The grandmaster reluctantly went to the chessboard where he faced a supercomputer.	5
66. To help the penguins digest, zookeepers urged patrons not to deep fry fish.	1
67. The insurer snubbed the tenant of the flat which reportedly had a water leak.	1
68. The baroness snubbed the housemaids of the millionaire who ?	spoke with regional accents
69. The overeager Crown Prosecutor alleged that the defendant ...	had offered bribes to a police officer
70. After washing the salad with its firm green leaves, the scullion ...	dried it in a salad spinner

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
71. The sleazy agent flattered the mistress of the house who wasn't as gullible as he expected.	5
72. The internet troll harassed the candidate of the Lib Dems who ?	ignored the messages
73. The teenagers barricaded the main entrance of the school so that no one could get in.	5
74. The skateboarders had to bandage up their knees after they ?	skint them in a tricky manoeuvre
75. The data astounded the advocate of the standard model who had expected the exact opposite.	1
76. The shouting spooked the neighbour of the newlyweds who ?	called the police
77. All her friends chipped in for her birthday to surprise her with ?	a bottle of Laphroaig
78. Thanks to stricter speed checks on national motorways ...	the number of accidents has decreased
79. The tabloid questioned the landlord of the estate who did not care about fire regulations.	5
80. The headmaster questioned the classmate of the bullies who ?	clyped on them

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
81. The lollipop man watched the traffic as a trail of ducks waddled across the road.	5
82. The church choir had to stop unexpectedly after the organist ?.	fainted
83. The passenger insulted the attendant on the flight which operated a no alcohol policy.	1
84. The hooligan insulted the supporters of the foreign team that ?	he met in the street after the match
85. The officer recalled that sails of the buccaneer?s ship were ...	reefed because of the high wind
86. The small island town held a celebration for its 50th annual ?	book festival
87. The plumber fixed the kitchen sink of the old lady who was living on her own.	1
88. The mechanic fixed the brakes of the F1 car that ?	were smoking when the car puled into the pits
89. The accomplice of the recently convicted fraudster alleged they were only in it for the money.	5
90. The labourer loaded planks of timber onto the van before he drove off to the building site.	5

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
91. The angry mob blamed the healer of the village which was afflicted by the plague.	4
92. The defence lawyer blamed the victims of the conman who ?	were foolish enough to give him their bank details
93. The pianist noted that the strings of the soloist's violin were ...	out of tune with the piano
94. The fishermen hated the large swarms of jellyfish because they would clog their nets.	4
95. The conductor disliked the baritone singer of the choir who was a bit full of himself.	5
96. The head of state praised the work of the charities that ?	had brought clean water to the village
97. Shortly before the fully occupied passenger plane had landed, ...	the seat belts sign was illuminated
98. According to the monk in plaster cast, the steps down the temple were a bit steep.	5
99. The pirate buried the treasure chest of the captain who was notorious for his cruelty.	1
100. The soldier guarded the gates to the palace that ?	remained closed because of the crowds

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
101. The robber decided to leave empty-handed after he found ?	a rottweiler in the hall
102. The van driver nearly crashed into the pedestrians because he was staring at his phone.	5
103. The constant rain annoyed the celebrities in the camp which was infested with cockroaches.	1
104. The reviews frustrated the co-authors of the researcher who ?	believed she had been given all the credit for a collaborative piece of work
105. The postman was scared off by a large dog, so next time ?	he checked the garden before opening the gate
106. The cat impressed all at the talent show by demonstrating an understanding of calculus.	1
107. The commentary angered the organizer of the rally which took place in London last week.	1
108. The parade delighted the devotees of the queen who ?	were mostly her friends and family
109. The interviewer listened patiently before noticing that he did not pay attention.	1
110. The inspector learnt that the handbag of the diplomat's wife had been ...	booby trapped

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
111. The burglars surprised the watchman of the bank who was not expecting such audacity.	1
112. The pay rise surprised the speaker of the unionists who ?	had anticipate only a two percent rise
113. The woman complained that the bicycles of the neighbour?s kids were leaving black marks.	5
114. Because of unexpectedly harsh weather conditions in spring, ?	many fruit trees lost their buds before flowering
115. The keynote enlightened the participants at the meeting who did not expect such eloquence.	1
116. The puppet show uplifted the children at the ward that ?	hosted the party
117. The invited speaker switched on the microphone before ...	she began to speak
118. The company was worried about their eco-friendly image, so they planted some trees.	5
119. The cult members celebrated the death of their guru who had promised them an eternal afterlife.	4
120. The campaigners celebrated the outcome of the elections that ?	they had worked so hard to influence

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
121. The politician blustered that future rioters will be facing the full force of the law.	5
122. There were rumours that the contract of the team's manager had not been ...	renwed
123. The detective recorded the testimony of the witness who was very cooperative.	1
124. The secretary filed the letters from the department that ?	had reopened after the lockdown
125. The priest looked after the asylum seekers because ...	they were living in his parish
126. The rainstorm raged on through the country, causing back-to-back traffic for miles.	5
127. The freshman looked up the notes from the tutor which were relevant for the exam.	1
128. The applicant read through the small print in the forms that ?	explained the legal terms and conditions of the post
Time taken	39 mins