

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
1. The cook decided that wasabi was a poor choice because ?	it is too overpowering.
2. Because of a considerable delay of the 7.30am train, ...	many commuters were late for work.
3. The coach ridiculed the groundsman of the football pitch who was seemingly drunk.	4
4. The boss yelled at the trainees of the foreman who ?	trained them incorrectly.
5. The film was torn apart by cineastes, but most people thought it was too pretentious.	3
6. The musicians deflected criticisms of their new CD, stating ?	that they wanted to experiment with new sounds and different genres.
7. The guest congratulated the hostess of the party who was celebrating her latest promotion.	5
8. The principal congratulated the supervisor of the students who ?	were achieving straight As.
9. Ever since the DEA cracked down on illicit drugs, dealers began investing in cryptocurrency.	5
10. The archaeologist discovered an unusual fossil which turned out to be a discarded film prop.	5

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
11. The priest cherished the book by the medieval bishop who later had become a saint.	5
12. The pop fan cherished the albums of the band that ?	sang the song "Misery Business".
13. The famous entertainer was given a bunch of flowers after ...	performing a show.
14. When I was younger my mother used to read me bedtime stories about ?	fairy tales.
15. The businesswoman married the mayor of the city which was famous for its museums.	3
16. The negotiator met the deputies of the chairman who ?	was arrested for fraud.
17. The management of the successful supermarket chain planned ...	to have a big sale.
18. The lieutenant ordered that the floors of the battalion's barracks were ...	scrubbed clean.
19. The sea inspired many artists of the 19th century who called themselves impressionists.	3
20. The theory inspired research on quantum particles that ?	also have the properties of waves.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
21. Since the mountain was incredibly dangerous, the rock climbers ?	brought lots of safety gear.
22. The friendly mailman delivered a small parcel to ...	the cute dog.
23. The young girl fed the dog of the pensioner who hoarded old newspapers in his flat.	4
24. The admiral feared an attack on the support ships that ?	were loaded with aid.
25. The old lady brought her troublesome grandchildren some ?	muzzles.
26. Before selling his mansion with all its antique interior, the earl ...	spent one last night there with his mistress.
27. The rich uncle visited the graduation of his niece which was held on campus.	5
28. The shooter missed two targets at the firing range that ?	were moving.
29. The ranger of the forest near the city borders forbid ...	entering the closed off area.
30. Given the reports about quicksand, the adventurer decided the best would be to wait.	1

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
31. The toddler kissed the fluffy toy of her playmate who was crying for his mum.	2
32. The diva kissed the puppies at the dog shelter that ?	had no eyes.
33. The picnic was going so well until swans from the pond feasted on all the bread.	5
34. Due to new safety regulations, the construction of the new bridge ?	was delayed.
35. The TV channel announced a report on the duke which contained highly charged footage.	3
36. The screen showed error messages of the programme that ?	had many bugs in it.
37. The barman slid a whiskey and a beer over to the cowboy from the adverts.	4
38. They waded through dusty cobwebs in the attic until they found boxes full of old board games.	5
39. The cardinal hired the painter of the famous fresco which graced the ceiling of the chapel.	4
40. The promoter hired the staffers of the catering firm that ?	make delectable sandwiches.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
41. Because of last night's TV documentary, the young woman vowed never to eat meat again.	5
42. Looking back over 3 months of receiving psychiatric help, he felt like ?	a new person.
43. Mr Farage welcomed the proposal by the US president who was keen to exploit the NHS.	5
44. The receptionist welcomed the secretary of the diplomats who ?	fired her.
45. The family found it difficult to adjust to living in France since none of them spoke French.	5
46. The patient had to wait for quite some time before being told to come back another time.	3
47. The vegan encouraged the new diet of her friend which mainly consisted of crisps.	4
48. The arbiter encouraged a dialogue between the opponents that ?	ended up solving the conflict.
49. The hairdresser was chatting to her colleague in order to honour an old tradition of the trade.	3
50. The soldiers charged into the jungle in the search of hidden Aztec artefacts.	5

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
51. The kids chased the goose of the farmer who was milking the cows.	4
52. The cops chased the getaway car of the mobsters that ?	was loaded with stolen cash.
53. The preschoolers rounded up as many snails as they could find for another busy day.	3
54. The doctor helped heal the horse?s broken leg until she made a miraculous recovery.	5
55. The playboy approached the main actress of the movie who felt very uncomfortable about it.	3
56. The anthropologist approached the chief of the natives who ?	had their land stolen by colonists.
57. The passengers on the bus looked on in confusion as they forded through the River Clyde.	5
58. The prime minister held a press conference and shortly afterwards ...	caught COVID-19.
59. The poet recited a sonnet about a princess who fell in love with a peasant.	5
60. The psychologist wrote an article on mental disorders that ?	was published in a journal with a high impact factor.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
61. The expert claimed the earthquake was due to a seismic slip from drilling on an oil rig.	5
62. The wizard invited acclaimed adventures to his castle to steal their vast riches.	1
63. The foody criticized the dish by the head chef who was newly appointed.	4
64. The scientist criticised the methods of the study that ?	did not provide enough results.
65. The grandmaster reluctantly went to the chessboard where he faced a supercomputer.	3
66. To help the penguins digest, zookeepers urged patrons not to deep fry fish.	4
67. The insurer appeased the tenant of the flat who complained about the water leak.	5
68. The baroness snubbed the housemaids of the millionaire who ?	were allegedly sleeping with him.
69. The overeager Crown Prosecutor alleged that the defendant ...	was lying.
70. After washing the salad with its firm green leaves, the scullion ...	added it to a salad bowl.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
71. The sleazy agent flattered the mistress of the house which was apparently up for sale.	3
72. The internet troll harassed the candidate of the Lib Dems who ?	originally promised free university tuition.
73. The teenagers barricaded the main entrance of the school so that no one could get in.	5
74. The skateboarders had to bandage up their knees after they ?	had a nasty fall.
75. The data astounded the advocate of the standard model which predicted the exact opposite.	4
76. The shouting spooked the neighbour of the newlyweds who ?	were rudely awoken from their slumber.
77. All her friends chipped in for her birthday to surprise her with ?	a mini-break in Berlin.
78. Thanks to stricter speed checks on national motorways ...	less people are speeding.
79. The tabloid questioned the landlord of the estate which still had combustible cladding.	5
80. The headmaster questioned the classmate of the bullies who ?	had witnessed the bullying.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
81. The lollipop man watched the traffic as a trail of ducks waddled across the road.	5
82. The church choir had to stop unexpectedly after the organist ?.	had a heart attack.
83. The passenger forgave the attendant on the flight who refused to serve him alcohol.	5
84. The hooligan insulted the supporters of the foreign team that ?	won the match.
85. The officer recalled that sails of the buccaneer?s ship were ...	fit for purpose.
86. The small island town held a celebration for its 50th annual ?	pie making contest.
87. The plumber cleared the kitchen sink of the old lady which had taken ages to drain.	3
88. The mechanic fixed the brakes of the F1 car that ?	had crashed.
89. The accomplice of the recently convicted fraudster alleged they were only in it for the money.	5
90. The labourer loaded planks of timber onto the van before he drove off to the building site.	5

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
91. The angry mob chastened the healer of the village who was rumoured to practice witchcraft.	5
92. The defence lawyer blamed the victims of the conman who ?	were stupid enough to fall for his scam.
93. The pianist noted that the strings of the soloist's violin were ...	frayed.
94. The fishermen hated the large swarms of jellyfish because they would clog their nets.	5
95. The conductor disliked the baritone singer of the choir which had about 30 members.	3
96. The head of state praised the work of the charities that ?	didn't embezzle funds.
97. Shortly before the fully occupied passenger plane had landed, ...	there was a seat belt announcement.
98. According to the monk in plaster cast, the steps down the temple were a bit steep.	4
99. The pirate guarded the treasure chest of the captain which was full of stolen gems.	4
100. The soldier guarded the gates to the palace that ?	housed the royal family.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
101. The robber decided to leave empty-handed after he found ?	a dead body.
102. The van driver nearly crashed into the pedestrians because he was staring at his phone.	5
103. The constant rain frustrated the celebrities in the camp who hadn't had a proper meal for days.	5
104. The reviews frustrated the co-authors of the researcher who ?	provided shoddy results.
105. The postman was scared off by a large dog, so next time ?	he brought treats.
106. The cat impressed all at the talent show by demonstrating an understanding of calculus.	5
107. The commentary delighted the organizer of the rally who was passionate about climate change.	5
108. The parade delighted the devotees of the queen who ?	were all wearing red.
109. The interviewer listened patiently before noticing that he did not pay attention.	3
110. The inspector learnt that the handbag of the diplomat's wife had been ...	stolen.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
111. The burglars surprised the watchman of the bank which was located near the town hall.	3
112. The pay rise surprised the speaker of the unionists who ?	decided to spend it on a holiday.
113. The woman complained that the bicycles of the neighbour?s kids were leaving black marks.	5
114. Because of unexpectedly harsh weather conditions in spring, ?	nobody went out for a picnic.
115. The keynote enlightened the participants at the meeting which was rather boring until then.	3
116. The puppet show uplifted the children at the ward that ?	had blue walls.
117. The invited speaker switched on the microphone before ...	giving his speech.
118. The company was worried about their eco-friendly image, so they planted some trees.	5
119. The cult members mourned the death of their guru which spelled the dawn of a new age to them.	3
120. The campaigners celebrated the outcome of the elections that ?	meant they would go down in history.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
121. The politician blustered that future rioters will be facing the full force of the law.	5
122. There were rumours that the contract of the team's manager had not been ...	renewed.
123. The detective filed the testimony of the witness which was very detailed.	5
124. The secretary filed the letters from the department that ?	was on the 4th floor.
125. The priest looked after the asylum seekers because ...	he wanted more converts.
126. The rainstorm raged on through the country, causing back-to-back traffic for miles.	5
127. The freshman looked up the notes from the tutor who had given the stats course.	5
128. The applicant read through the small print in the forms that ?	stated the terms and conditions of the contract.
Time taken	51 mins