

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
1. The woman complained that the bicycles of the neighbour's kids were leaving black marks.	4
2. The interviewer listened patiently before noticing that he did not pay attention.	1
3. The passenger forgave the attendant on the flight which operated a no alcohol policy.	5
4. The hooligan insulted the supporters of the foreign team that ?	won.
5. The accomplice of the recently convicted fraudster alleged they were only in it for the money.	5
6. The management of the successful supermarket chain planned ...	promotions.
7. The foody relished the dish by the head chef which was very spicy.	4
8. The scientist criticised the methods of the study that ?	the student conducted.
9. The robber decided to leave empty-handed after he found ?	a video camera.
10. Because of a considerable delay of the 7.30am train, ...	I arrived late.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
11. The commentary delighted the organizer of the rally which took place in London last week.	2
12. The parade delighted the devotees of the queen who ?	had come out to see the parade.
13. The passengers on the bus looked on in confusion as they forded through the River Clyde.	1
14. The officer recalled that sails of the buccaneer's ship were ...	no longer there.
15. The burglars fooled the watchman of the bank who was not expecting such audacity.	1
16. The pay rise surprised the speaker of the unionists who ?	had previously complained.
17. The lollipop man watched the traffic as a trail of ducks waddled across the road.	5
18. The politician blustered that future rioters will be facing the full force of the law.	5
19. The coach ridiculed the groundsman of the football pitch which was very untidy.	1
20. The boss yelled at the trainees of the foreman who ?	were lazy.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
21. The wizard invited acclaimed adventures to his castle to steal their vast riches.	1
22. Because of last night's TV documentary, the young woman vowed never to eat meat again.	5
23. The pirate guarded the treasure chest of the captain who was notorious for his cruelty.	5
24. The soldier guarded the gates to the palace that ?	housed the Queen.
25. To help the penguins digest, zookeepers urged patrons not to deep fry fish.	1
26. The small island town held a celebration for its 50th annual ?	charity event.
27. The plumber cleared the kitchen sink of the old lady who was living on her own.	1
28. The mechanic fixed the brakes of the F1 car that ?	were broken.
29. The pianist noted that the strings of the soloist's violin were ...	not tuned.
30. The picnic was going so well until swans from the pond feasted on all the bread.	4

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
31. The rich uncle visited the graduation of his niece who got a first-class degree.	4
32. The shooter missed two targets at the firing range that ?	were too far away.
33. When I was younger my mother used to read me bedtime stories about ?	fairies.
34. The soldiers charged into the jungle in the search of hidden Aztec artefacts.	5
35. The businesswoman met the mayor of the city who was nominated for an OBE.	5
36. The negotiator met the deputies of the chairman who ?	were standing in for him.
37. Before selling his mansion with all its antique interior, the earl ...	had removed what he wanted to keep.
38. The company was worried about their eco-friendly image, so they planted some trees.	5
39. The constant rain frustrated the celebrities in the camp which was infested with cockroaches.	5
40. The reviews frustrated the co-authors of the researcher who ?	had worked very hard.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
41. The archaeologist discovered an unusual fossil which turned out to be a discarded film prop.	3
42. The grandmaster reluctantly went to the chessboard where he faced a supercomputer.	4
43. The young girl feared the dog of the pensioner that always barked when it saw her.	5
44. The admiral feared an attack on the support ships that ?	were vulnerable in the sea.
45. The prime minister held a press conference and shortly afterwards ...	he answered questions.
46. The fishermen hated the large swarms of jellyfish because they would clog their nets.	5
47. The toddler nuzzled the fluffy toy of her playmate which was made of 100% polyester.	1
48. The diva kissed the puppies at the dog shelter that ?	barked at her.
49. The film was torn apart by cineastes, but most people thought it was too pretentious.	1
50. The cook decided that wasabi was a poor choice because ?	the customers were hoping for steak.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
51. The angry mob chastened the healer of the village which was afflicted by the plague.	4
52. The defence lawyer blamed the victims of the conman who ?	had lost all their money.
53. Looking back over 3 months of receiving psychiatric help, he felt like ?	confident in going back to work.
54. The friendly mailman delivered a small parcel to ...	his neighbour.
55. The guest congratulated the hostess of the party which was the biggest event in town.	5
56. The principal congratulated the supervisor of the students who ?	had worked very hard with them.
57. The inspector learnt that the handbag of the diplomat's wife had been ...	stolen.
58. According to the monk in plaster cast, the steps down the temple were a bit steep.	2
59. The sleazy agent harassed the mistress of the house who wasn't as gullible as he expected.	4
60. The internet troll harassed the candidate of the Lib Dems who ?	he disapproved of.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
61. Thanks to stricter speed checks on national motorways ...	there are less accidents.
62. The teenagers barricaded the main entrance of the school so that no one could get in.	5
63. The conductor praised the baritone singer of the choir who was a bit full of himself.	5
64. The head of state praised the work of the charities that ?	had made a difference.
65. Given the reports about quicksand, the adventurer decided the best would be to wait.	2
66. The doctor helped heal the horse's broken leg until she made a miraculous recovery.	1
67. The sea inspired many artists of the 19th century which was the age of impressionism.	5
68. The theory inspired research on quantum particles that ?	would bring new ground-breaking information.
69. The labourer loaded planks of timber onto the van before he drove off to the building site.	4
70. The skateboarders had to bandage up their knees after they ?	fell over.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
71. The vegan encouraged the new diet of her friend who used to eat almost anything.	1
72. The arbiter encouraged a dialogue between the opponents that ?	were competing in the debate.
73. The postman was scared off by a large dog, so next time ?	he left the post with a neighbour.
74. The famous entertainer was given a bunch of flowers after ...	his amazing show.
75. The poet wrote a sonnet about a princess which did not rhyme at all.	5
76. The psychologist wrote an article on mental disorders that ?	received much attention.
77. The patient had to wait for quite some time before being told to come back another time.	4
78. All her friends chipped in for her birthday to surprise her with ?	a weekend away.
79. Mr Farage exalted the proposal by the US president which involved privatisation of the NHS.	2
80. The receptionist welcomed the secretary of the diplomats who ?	had just arrived.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
81. The priest looked after the asylum seekers because ...	he felt it was his duty.
82. The expert claimed the earthquake was due to a seismic slip from drilling on an oil rig.	3
83. The cult members mourned the death of their guru who had promised them an eternal afterlife.	4
84. The campaigners celebrated the outcome of the elections that ?	they had hoped for.
85. Due to new safety regulations, the construction of the new bridge ?	is currently closed.
86. The cat impressed all at the talent show by demonstrating an understanding of calculus.	4
87. The data spooked the advocate of the standard model who had expected the exact opposite.	1
88. The shouting spooked the neighbour of the newlyweds who ?	had just moved in.
89. Shortly before the fully occupied passenger plane had landed, ...	air stewards asked those on board to be patient. .
90. The family found it difficult to adjust to living in France since none of them spoke French.	5

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
91. The TV channel announced a report on the duke who had some dubious friends in the past.	3
92. The screen showed error messages of the programme that ?	was running.
93. Because of unexpectedly harsh weather conditions in spring, ?	lots of people booked holidays abroad.
94. Since the mountain was incredibly dangerous, the rock climbers ?	decided to stop.
95. The keynote uplifted the participants at the meeting who did not expect such eloquence.	5
96. The puppet show uplifted the children at the ward that ?	had asked for someone to come in and cheer up the children.
97. The old lady brought her troublesome grandchildren some ?	books to keep them quiet.
98. The ranger of the forest near the city borders forbid ...	fires.
99. The tabloid vilified the landlord of the estate who did not care about fire regulations.	5
100. The headmaster questioned the classmate of the bullies who ?	was fed up of being bullied.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
101. Ever since the DEA cracked down on illicit drugs, dealers began investing in cryptocurrency.	1
102. The rainstorm raged on through the country, causing back-to-back traffic for miles.	5
103. The priest worshipped the book by the medieval bishop which was precious and unique.	5
104. The pop fan cherished the albums of the band that ?	she had loved when she was younger.
105. After washing the salad with its firm green leaves, the scullion ...	started to cut up the tomatoes.
106. The lieutenant ordered that the floors of the battalion's barracks were ...	pristine clean.
107. The kids mocked the goose of the farmer which was chattering frantically.	5
108. The cops chased the getaway car of the mobsters that ?	had robbed the bank.
109. The church choir had to stop unexpectedly after the organist ?.	fell over.
110. The preschoolers rounded up as many snails as they could find for another busy day.	1

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
111. The detective filed the testimony of the witness who was very cooperative.	5
112. The secretary filed the letters from the department that ?	had arrived yesterday.
113. The van driver nearly crashed into the pedestrians because he was staring at his phone.	5
114. The hairdresser was chatting to her colleague in order to honour an old tradition of the trade.	1
115. The cardinal idolized the painter of the famous fresco who was also an exquisite sculptor.	1
116. The promoter hired the staffers of the catering firm that ?	were good workers.
117. They waded through dusty cobwebs in the attic until they found boxes full of old board games.	5
118. The overeager Crown Prosecutor alleged that the defendant ...	was to be given the maximum penalty.
119. The insurer appeased the tenant of the flat which reportedly had a water leak.	1
120. The baroness snubbed the housemaids of the millionaire who ?	she saw as being beneath her.

Original Sentence	Participant Answer
121. The barman slid a whiskey and a beer over to the cowboy from the adverts.	1
122. The musicians deflected criticisms of their new CD, stating ?	they were trying a new sound.
123. The freshman read through the notes from the tutor which were relevant for the exam.	5
124. The applicant read through the small print in the forms that ?	He had to sign.
125. There were rumours that the contract of the team?s manager had not been ...	Fulfilled.
126. The invited speaker switched on the microphone before ...	Talking.
127. The playboy approached the main actress of the movie which had some explicit scenes in it.	3
128. The anthropologist approached the chief of the natives who ?	Who was in charge of the tribe.
Time taken	26530485 mins